NOON REPORTS.

The Rout in India.

LONDON, July 30.—A Bombay dispatch says that the native mind is greatly excited by the Candahar disaster. The Bazaars are full of rumors and natives think Russians assisted Ayoob Khan and led his troops.

The last telegram from Candahar stated that all the discipline in Burrows's command had disappeared, and a disorderly crowd of officers and soldiers are pouring into Candahar.

News from the Atalanta.

NEW YORK, July 30.—A special from St. Johns, N. F., says the British barkentine Girl of Devon, arrived Thursday morning from Plymouth, England, after a passage of twenty-seven days. She brought in with her a large white painted figurehead, which the Captain affirms to be unmistakably that of the ill starred training ship Atalanta. One noticeable feature about the figurehead is the evidence of great violence, either by collision with ice or with floating wreckage. The large metal bolts that fastened it to the cutwater are rudely bent and broken, indicating the application of a tremendous shock to the bows of the ship, and the lower part of the figure is broken and battered, which tends to strengthen the theory of a collision.

For British Supremacy.

LONDON, July 30.—It is stated that arrangements have been made for the dispatch of four or five thousand troops to Afghanistan from England within a few days, and that the military authorities are prepared to supply from England within the next fortnight 12,000 troops of all arms. The Admiralty has signified to the War Department its readiness to provide transportation for twenty thousand men within three weeks. The India troop ships Crocodile and Serapis are undergoing repairs, and are therefore not available for service this season.

Foreign Items.

LONDON, July 30.—A Paris dispatch announces that M. Roderer, head of the great champagne house, died at Rheims yesterday.

A Berlin dispatch says it appears that France has resolved to withdraw her ironclads if a naval demonstration should develop into a real action. Until now it has been hoped that the good understanding between the Powers during the drawing up of the collective note would continue, but the attitude of France during the last few days makes it likely that many new difficulties may arise.

Racing.

LONDON, July 30.—The fourth day at the Goodwood meeting race for the Malcombe stakes for two year old colts and fillies was won by Lorillard's Paw Paw, Duke of Westminster's ch. f. Medora second; Craven's ch. c. Capuchin, third; the ran. Capuchin and Chelsea ran side by side to the distance pole, where Paw Paw came to the front and won by half a length, three lengths between second and third horses.

A Tempest in a Teapot.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Advices from Rio Janeiro state that at Victoria in Pernambuco an election riot occurred on the 27th June, in which according to the telegrams received the soldiery and police fired on the people and twenty persons including the Baron Da Escoda were killed and many wounded.

Fire.

NEW YORK, July 30.—The large building corner West and Bank streets, occupied by the Domestic Sewing Machine Co. and several other firms, was partly destroyed by fire last night. Loss about $50,000.

Nominated.

LOUISVILLE, July 30.—The Republicans of the Third Indiana District have nominated A. P. Charles for Congress.

MIDNIGHT REPORTS.

No Row in Cyprus.

LONDON, July 30.—In the House of Commons this evening Sir Charles Dilke, Under Foreign Secretary, said the government had no information of a mutiny in Cyprus and that it does not believe the report.

Bond Forger Arrested.

NEW YORK, July 30.—George M. Branscom, of Jacksonville, Fla., was arrested in the Tombs police court this afternoon for the alleged forgery of bonds estimated to represent in the aggregate $135,000 to $160,000, and designated as the Sanitary Improvement Bonds of Jacksonville, which were in his possession. Branscom waived further examination.

Earthquake.

SMYRNA, July 30.—The earthquake which occurred here yesterday demolished four or five houses and damaged many others. Two persons were killed and five or six injured, and much damage done in adjacent country. At Bumobad eleven houses and several cafes and two minarets were demolished and two persons killed and ten injured slightly. The tremblings continue.

Steamer Sunk.

MEMPHIS, July 30.—At one o'clock this morning the Anchor Line steamer City of Vicksburg, en route from St. Louis to Vicksburg, while lying at Ashport, Tennessee, 120 miles above Memphis, was found to be in a sinking condition. The boat was about being backed out of the landing and time was barely given for the passengers to save themselves. Fortunately however all escaped, although the steamer sank within ten minutes. She was nine years old and valued at $50,000 and uninsured.

The Fasting Fool.

NEW YORK, July 30.—Dr. Tanner has greatly improved to-day. At 3:15 this morning he vomited a small quantity of mucus, he then drank 1½ ounces of carbolic acid gas water. He sat up most of the morning. A letter from Mary J. Feyndoh, of Milwaukee, offering the Doctor her hand and heart, greatly amused him. He walked twenty-five laps around the enclosure in the hall, about two-thirds of a mile in eighteen minutes. His gait was free and steady. At 7 o'clock he was talking to the visitors in a lively strain.

Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, July 30.—The weather is clear and warm. The track is in good condition, but dusty. The attendance is fair.

The first race, two-year-olds, five furlongs, Bootjack won; Glencairne, second; Compensation, third. Time, 1:04.

The second race, one mile and five hundred yards, Ada Glenn won by a neck; Col. Sprague, second; Oden, third; Long Taw, fourth. Time, 2:14¾.

The third race, one mile and a furlong, was a dead heat between Gold Bug and Turfman; Goforth, third. Time, 1:58¾.

The fourth race selling race, all ages, three-fourths of a mile, Observanda won; Utilita, second; Charley Ross, third. Time, 1:16¾.

Killed at the Fire.

NEW YORK, July 30.—At the fire on West street last night, Philip Horton, of Engine Company, No. 24, fell from a window in the fourth floor of the building to the yard below, and his right side and leg are so badly crushed that a fatal result is feared. He was one of the most skillful and daring members of the Fire Department. The building in which the fire occurred was owned by the Ambrose Kingsland estate, and is valued at $200,000. It was mostly damaged by water, as the fire was confined to the contents, which were of a very inflammable nature. The damage to the building will not exceed $8,000, which is fully insured. The Domestic Machine Company lose heavily on stock and machinery. Their total loss will not be far from $20,000. They are fully insured.

Indian Affairs.

LONDON, July 30.—Gen. Sir Garnet Wolseley came to London last night from the Isle of Wight after hearing the news of the disaster at Candahar. A telegram was received at the India Office from the Viceroy of India last night, dated the 29th inst., which refers to the dispatch of reinforcements from various parts in India. It says that a battery of horse artillery at Kurrachee has been ordered up; one battery is en route, the 1st Madras Cavalry is en route, and the 11th foot at Bolan and the 15th foot at Kurrachee have been ordered up. Gen. Phayre will receive a battery and a European regiment from the Punjaub. His field column will muster three batteries, nine squadrons, and three British and four native battalions. He expects to be ready in fifteen days. Candahar is provisioned to the end of October.

THE DAILY NEWS.

BY P. M. HALE, PRINTER TO THE STATE.

L. L. POLK, CORRESPONDING EDITOR.

RALEIGH, N. C.

SATURDAY.....JULY 31, 1880.

HANCOCK AND ENGLISH.

LETTERS OF ACCEPTANCE.

[Special telegram to THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

General Hancock's Letter.

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND, NEW YORK, July 29th.

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of July 13th, 1880, apprising me formally of my nomination to the office of President of the United States by the National Democratic Convention lately assembled in Cincinnati. I accept the nomination with a grateful appreciation of the confidence reposed in me. The principles enunciated by the Convention are those I have cherished in the past and shall endeavor to maintain in the future. The 13th, 14th and 15th amendments to the Constitution of the United States, embodying the results of the war for the Union, are inviolable. If called to the Presidency, I should deem it my duty to resist with all of my power any attempt to impair or evade the full force and effect of the Constitution, which in every article, section, and amendment, is the supreme law of the land. The Constitution forms the basis of the Government of the United States. The powers granted by it to the legislative, executive, and judicial departments define and limit the authority of the General Government. The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, belong to the States respectively, or to the people. The General and State Governments, each acting in its own sphere, without trenching upon the lawful jurisdiction of the other, constitute the Union. This Union, comprising the General Government with general powers and State Governments with State powers for purposes local to the States, is a polity, the foundations of which were laid in the profoundest wisdom. This is the Union our fathers made and which has been so respected abroad and so beneficent at home. Tried by blood and fire, it stands to-day a model form of free popular Government; the political system which rightly administered, has been and will continue to be the admiration of the world. May we not say nearly in the words of WASHINGTON, "the unity of the Government which constitutes us one people, is justly the main pillar in the edifice of our real independence, the support of our peace, safety and prosperity, and of that liberty we so highly prize and intend, at every hazard, to preserve." But no form of government, however carefully devised, no principles, however sound, will protect the rights of the people unless the administration is faithful and efficient. It is the vital principle in our system, that neither fraud nor force must be allowed to subvert the rights of the people. When fraud, violence or incompetence controls, the noblest constitutions and wisest laws are useless. The bayonet is not a fit instrument for collecting the votes of freemen. It is only by a full vote, free ballot and fair count, that the people can rule in fact, as required by the theory of our Government. Take this foundation away and the whole structure falls.

Public office is a trust, not a bounty, bestowed upon the holder. No incompetent or dishonest person should ever be entrusted with it, or, if appointed, they should be promptly ejected. The basis of substantial practical civil service reform must first be established by the people in filling elective offices. If they fix a high standard of qualifications for office, and sternly reject the corrupt and incompetent, the result will be decisive in governing the action of the servants whom they entrust with appointing power.

The war for the Union was successfully closed more than fifteen years ago. All classes of our people must share alike in the blessings of the Union, and are equally concerned in its perpetuity, and in the proper administration of public affairs. We are in a state of profound peace. Henceforth, let it be our purpose to cultivate sentiments of friendship and no animosity against our fellow citizens. Our material interests, varied and progressive, demand our constant and united efforts. A sedulous and scrupulous care of the public credit, together with a wise and economical management of our government expenditures, should be maintained, in order that labor may be lightly burdened and that all persons may be protected in their rights to the fruits of their own industry. The time has come to enjoy the substantial benefits of reconciliation. As one people we have common interests. Let us encourage harmony and generous rivalry among our own industries, which will revive our languishing merchant marine, extend our commerce with foreign countries, assist our merchants, manufacturers and producers to develop our vast natural resources, and increase the prosperity and happiness of our people. If elected, I shall, with Divine favor, labor with what ability I possess, to discharge my duties with fidelity, according to my convictions, and shall take care to protect and defend the Union, and see that the laws be faithfully and equally executed in all parts of the country alike. I will assume the responsibility, fully sensible of the fact that to administer rightly the functions of government is to discharge the most sacred duty that can devolve upon an American citizen.

I am, very respectfully,

WINFIELD S. HANCOCK.

To Hon. John W. Stevenson, President of Convention, Hon. John P. Stockton, Chairman, and others of the Committee of the National Democratic Convention.

Mr. English's Letter.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 30.

Gentlemen: I have now the honor to reply to your letter of the 13th instant, informing me that I was unanimously nominated for the office of Vice President of the United States by the late Democratic National Convention which assembled at Cincinnati. As foreshadowed in the verbal remarks made by me at the time of the delivery of your letter, I have now to say that I accept the high trust with a realizing sense of its responsibility, and am profoundly grateful for the honor conferred. I accept the nomination upon the platform of principles adopted by the Convention, which I cordially approve, and I accept it quite as much because of my faith in the wisdom and patriotism of the great statesman and soldier nominated on the same ticket for President of the United States. His eminent services to his country; his fidelity to the Constitution, the Union and the laws; his clear perception of the correct principles of government as taught by JEFFERSON; his scrupulous care to keep the military in strict subordination to the civil authorities; his high regard for civil liberty, personal rights and the rights of property; his acknowledged ability in civil as well as military affairs, and his pure and blameless life, all point to him as a man worthy of the confidence of the people. Not only a brave soldier, great commander, wise statesman and pure patriot, but a provident, painstaking, practical man, of unquestioned honesty, trusted often with important public duties, faithful to every trust, and in the full meridian of ripe and vigorous manhood, he is, in my judgment, eminently fitted for the highest position on earth, the Presidency of the United States. Not only is he the right man for the place, but the time has come when the best interests of the country require that the party which has monopolized the Executive department of the general government for the last twenty years should be retired. The continuance of that party in power four years longer would not be beneficial to the public or in accordance with the spirit of our Republican institutions. Laws of entail have not been favored in our system of Government; perpetuation of property or place in one family or set of men has never been encouraged in this country, and the great and good men who formed our Republican Government and its traditions wisely limited the tenure of office, and in many ways showed their disapproval of long leases of power. Twenty years of continuous power is long enough, and has already led to irregularities and corruptions which are not likely to be properly exposed under the same party that perpetrated them. Besides, it should not be forgotten that the four last years of power held by that party were procured by discreditable means and held in defiance of the wishes of a majority of the people. It was a grievous wrong to every voter and our system of self-Government, which should never be forgotten or forgiven. Many of the men now in office were put there because of corrupt partisan services in thus defeating the fairly and legally expressed will of the majority, and the hypocrisy of the professions of that party in favor of civil service reform was shown by placing such men in office and turning a whole brood of Federal office-holders loose to influence elections. The money of the people taken out of the public treasury by these men for services often poorly performed, or not performed at all, is being used in vast sums with the knowledge, and presumed sanction of the Administration, to control elections. And even members of the Cabinet are strolling about the country making partisan speeches, instead of being in their departments at Washington discharging the public duties for which they are paid by the people. But with all their cleverness and ability, a discriminating public will no doubt read between the lines of their speeches that their paramount hope and aim is to keep themselves or their satellites four years longer in office. That perpetuating the power of chronic office-holders four years longer will not benefit the millions of men and women who hold no office, but earn their daily bread by honest industry, is what the same discerning public will no doubt fully understand; as they will also, that it is because of their own industry and economy, and of God's bountiful harvests that the country is comparatively prosperous, and not because of anything done by these federal office holders.

The country is comparatively prosperous not because of them but in spite of them. This contest is in fact between the people endeavoring to regain the political power which rightfully belongs to them, and to restore the pure, simple and economical Constitutional government of our fathers on one side, and a hundred thousand federal office holders and their backers, pampered with place and power and determined to retain them at all hazards, on the other. Hence the constant assumption of new and dangerous powers by the general government under the rule of the Republican party; the effort to build up what they call a strong government; the interference with home rule and with the administration of Justice in the Courts of the several States; the interference with elections through the medium of paid partisan Federal office-holders interested in keeping their party in power, and caring more for that than for fairness in elections. In fact, the constant encroachments which have been made by that party upon the clearly reserved rights of the people and States, will, if not checked, subvert the liberties of the people and the government of limited powers created by our fathers, and end in a great consolidated central government, strong indeed for evil, and the overthrow of Republican institutions. The wise men who formed our Constitution knew the evils of strong government and long continuance of political power in the same hands. They knew there was a tendency in this direction in all governments, and consequent danger to Republican institutions from that cause, and took pains to guard against it. The machinery of a strong centralized general government can be used to perpetuate the same set of men in power from term to term, until it ceases to be a Republic, or is such only in name; and the tendency of the party now in power in that direction as shown in various ways besides the willingness recently manifested by a large number of that party to elect a President for an unlimited number of terms, is quite apparent, and must satisfy the thinking people that the time has come when it will be safest and best for that party to be retired. But in resisting the encroachments of the general government upon the reserved rights of the people and States, I wish to be distinctly understood as favoring a proper exercise by the general government of the powers rightfully belonging to it under the Constitution. Encroachments upon the Constitutional rights of the general government, or interference with the proper exercise of its powers, must be carefully avoided. The union of the States under the Constitution must be maintained, and it is well known that this has always been the position of both candidates on the Democratic Presidential ticket. It is acquiesced in everywhere now, and finally and forever settled as one of the results of the war. It is certain beyond all question that the legitimate results of the war for the Union will not be overthrown or impaired should the Democratic ticket be elected. In that event, proper protection will be given in every legitimate way, to every citizen, native or adopted, in every section of the Republic, in the enjoyment of all the rights guaranteed by the Constitution and its amendments. A sound currency of honest money, of value and purchasing power corresponding substantially with the standard recognized by the commercial world, and consisting of gold and silver and paper convertible into coin, will be maintained. The labor and manufacturing, commercial and business interests of the country will be favored and encouraged in every legitimate way. The toiling millions of our own people will be protected from the destructive competition of the Chinese, and to that end their immigration to our shores will be properly restricted. The public credit will be scrupulously maintained and strengthened by rigid economy in the public expenditures, and the liberties of the people and the property of the people will be protected by a government of law and order, administered strictly in the interests of all people and not of corporations and privileged classes.

I do not doubt the discriminating justice of the people and their capacity for intelligent self-government, and therefore do not doubt the success of the Democratic ticket. Its success would bury beyond resurrection the sectional jealousies and hatreds which have so long been the chief stock in trade of pestiferous demagogues, and in no other way can this be so effectually accomplished. It would restore harmony and good feeling between all sections, and make us in fact, as well as in name, one people. The only rivalry then would be in the race for the development of material prosperity, elevation of labor, enlargement of human rights, and the promotion of education, morality, religion, liberty, order, and all that would tend to make us the foremost nation of the earth in the grand march of human progress.

I am, with great respect,

Yours very truly,

WM. H. ENGLISH.

To Hon. John W. Stevenson, President of Convention, Hon. John P. Stockton, Chairman, and other members of the Committee of Notification.

OUR FRIEND who writes from Lilesville has known us long enough to know that we never quarrel with men's opinions. It is worse than waste of time and space. If men try to fortify their opinions with misstatements of matters of fact, whether of purpose or from misinformation, it is another matter. There is something to be gained by keeping the people fully informed, and we do not think that this paper is backward in that regard.

The Star learns that Bishop Atkinson is much worse and serious fears are felt as to the result of his sickness.

WHAT IT HAS COST.

Democratic and Radical Expenses.

A COMPARATIVE STATEMENT OF EXPENDITURES

For each fiscal year, ending with September 30, from 1868 to 1880, both included. The expenditures in the 1868 column are for three months only, from July 1, 1868, when the Radicals took possession under the Canby Constitution, to September 30, 1868; and including the cost of their preceding Canby "State" Convention.

The figures in the 1868, 1869 and 1870 columns represent the cost in taxes of 21 years of Radicalism; no account is made of the millions raised by issue of bonds. In 1871, 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, 1876, though the Executive was Radical, the taxing and spending power was Democratic. Since 1876, the entire control has been with the Democrats.

CITY AND COUNTY NOTES:—

The Good Templars' convention meets at Mt. Vernon church, in this county, to-day.

There will be no services in the Second Presbyterian Church to-morrow. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

A little daughter of Mr. J. C. Scarborough died at his home in Johnston county on Wednesday night at 2½ o'clock. The funeral services took place Thursday evening.

Messrs. Daniel Miller & Co., of Baltimore, are satisfied that the people of North Carolina must have their goods, and so they took out a drummer's license yesterday.

We don't believe in wasting space in telling people nothing has happened, but the Mayor's Court is still bare of cases, and this fact speaks so well for the city that it deserves chronicling.

The door of the Radical campaign committee's room is tastefully decorated with the coat of arms of that party. It consists of a couple of rooster feathers or, twined with wool proper and perfume rose d'Afrique predominant.

Judge Upchurch wishes to find good homes for two smart colored children who are to be bound out. One of them is a boy of eight years old and the other a girl of 13. Both of them are said to be very smart, bright and intelligent.

Mr. King of the firm of Betts & King on Person street died last Friday near Louisville of typhoid fever. Mr. King is said by those who knew him to have been very energetic, and a good business man, and one whose loss will be seriously felt in the community.

The letters of Gen. Hancock and Mr. English accepting the nominations for President and Vice-President of the United States, appear on the editorial page of THE NEWS this morning, having been received by special telegram the same morning at 1:30 o'clock.

To "put all your nickels in the missionary box" is a very good plan, but the people of this collection district follow it not; for they yesterday put their nickels in the internal revenue office to an extent which swelled the receipts of the radical campaign fund to the sum of $6,486.90.

Fire Insurance Companies came up with their half yearly contributions yesterday. The Queen of Liverpool and London put in $93.78, the Imperial and Northern $5.36, the North British and Mercantile $71.91, the Virginia Home Insurance $18.78, and the Phœnix $18.52. Col. Jno. Wilder Atkinson, of Wilmington, is general agent for them all.

The Good Templars have awarded the contract for building the monument to Messrs. McMillan and Crocker, who were recently drowned in trying to rescue a young lady, to Messrs. John King and John Cayton. The monument is to be of granite, fourteen feet high, and the design is said by competent judges to be a model of propriety and beauty.

A correspondent wants to know if we can recall the rest of that beautiful poem commencing—

> A farmer sat in his easy chair
> Smoking his pipe of clay,
> While his hale old wife with busy care
> Was clearing the dinner away;
> A sweet little girl with fine blue eyes
> On her grandfather's knee was catching flies.
> Of course we can. Can we ever forget them—those beautiful lines? Here they are:
> But a hornet came and sat him down
> In reach of the youngster there,
> And then she reached her hand outcurved,
> Then a baby's yell split the air;
> Her well-aimed grasp had known no fail,
> But the fly she caught had a splintery tail.

BAD FOR THE NEXT CENSUS.—Not a single marriage license has been issued this week.

WAITING FOR THE DOCTOR.—No old books were received for exchange yesterday. They are waiting to welcome the Treasurer on his return from Ashboro.

FIRE IN WAYNESVILLE.—We learn that the principal hotel in Waynesville was totally destroyed by fire on Thursday night. Some of the boarders lost everything.

ANOTHER EMPTY GUN.—A lad named Strickland, near Wadesboro, on the 28th instant, shot a negro girl, aged about ten years, in the leg, which necessitated amputation. He was playfully endeavoring to frighten her when, to his surprise and horror, the gun fired. Of course he thought the gun was unloaded. Drs. Huntley and Ingram performed the operation on the 29th.

HURT ON THE EXCURSION.—Osborn Hunter and a man named Irving, who works with Stewart Ellison, were hurt, but not seriously, on the excursion to Henderson yesterday. From what we can gather the parties named got off the train at one of the stations. When the train moved off they attempted to run and jump on, but were sportively pushed back by some of their friends and fell. We are glad to be able to say that no serious damage was done.

WHAT A FLIRT DID.—A gay Tennessee belle had gained the reputation of being most emphatically a "girl of the period." She kept her lover in a state of despair, having refused him many times. She was esteemed faithless and frivolous; but the time soon came for her to redeem her character. One day there was a terrible railroad accident, and the rejected lover had both legs crushed off. The apparently heartless girl devoted herself to his consolation, and married him on crutches the first day the doctors allowed him to go out.

Some folks never will finish a story. Here is the balance of this one. Within three months after marriage she wore out one of his crutches on him and pawned his cork legs and the other crutch for enough money to run away with another fellow on; remarking as she did so, that life was too short to waste on half a man when she'd been accustomed to have half a dozen.

MULE RUNAWAY.—Yesterday morning early a mule team had a lively runaway along Martin and up Fayetteville street. The colored driver was on the ground, but swung gamely to the lines until, in turning the corner at the Citizens' Bank, the reins were twitched from his hands and he very nearly thrown against the corner rock. He pursued his runaway team up the street, and had almost caught them up, when an assistant, who knew the nature of a mule, and knew that the proper way to break one was to begin at the head, rushed to the rescue with a stick of wood, wherewith he knocked one mule down, and the other of course stopped.

SUPREME COURT.—Court opened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock. All the Justices were present.

The Court having disposed of all the appeals from the Seventh District on Thursday, by consent of counsel of both both parties, heard the following cases from the Eighth Judicial District:

Wilfred Turner vs. J. B. Gaither, from Iredell; argued by R. F. Armfield (by brief) and J. M. Clement for the plaintiff, and J. M. McCorkle for the defendant.

Thomas J. Osborne vs. R. S. Clvert et als, from Iredell; argued by J. M. Clement for the plaintiff, and J. M. McCorkle for the defendant.

Court adjourned until 10 o'clock this (Saturday) morning.

TO EDGECOMBE, GREETING.—We are glad to see that our Edgecombe friends are taking so much interest in the bloodhorse, for we regard good stock as a sure evidence of, and solid foundation to the prosperity of a country. We hope to see them up to our Fair with their stock. Outcast and Ouida are good ones we know, but whave an idea that if they come, a little lopared pony in these parts can make them aste whalebone before the races are over. We would like to suggest too that if the managers of Runnymede Park will open its gates the Tar River cracks may benet withal nearer home. There are some good horses here, and we hear of some good ones in Johnston, Wayne and Lenoir.

THE WELDON FAIR.—Last night we received a complimentary ticket to the eleventh annual fair of the Roanoke and Tar River Agricultural Society. Having been to ten of these fairs we know what we are talking of when we say that they are the most delightful in the world. Everything combines to make them good, good horses, pretty women and the best set of men that ever the sun shone on. The whole population of the country tributary to the Fair is devoted to fun and knows how to have, it and its chosen holiday and general birthday time is the Weldon Fair week.

PERSONAL:—

Senator and Mrs. Vance are at the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs.

Professor Dabney, recently elected to the chair of Agricultural Chemistry at the University of this State, has also been offered a Professorship in the Central University of Kentucky.

What North Carolinians are Doing.

GLEANINGS FROM STATE EXCHANGES.

The Economist gives good reports of the crops in Gates and Tyrrell.

The Wilmington Star says that the cotton crop in some sections of Brunswick has been injured somewhat by the excessive rains.

From all directions the Charlotte Democrat hears the most cheering reports of the good condition and prospects of crops of all sorts.

The Patriot says that crops in Guilford county are in better condition, and promise a more abundant yield during the present season than has been known for twenty years past."

The Iredell Gazette says that "crops of all kinds are vigorous and healthy. A finer prospect for both corn and cotton has perhaps never been seen in this section. Cotton picking will commence here as early perhaps as the 15th of August."

The Charlotte Democrat quotes flour at 3.00 to 3.25 per sack; corn 58 to 60; meal 62; oats 40 to 50; new sweet potatoes 1.50; beeswax 18; butter 20 to 25; eggs 10; chickens 12½ to 15; corn whisky 1.25 by barrel from wagon; apple brandy 1.50.

The Lenoir Topic says that Mrs. Elizabeth Cline died on the 18th, aged 109 years. Her health had been good up to two years ago. The same paper says that G. W. Thompson died in Watauga county in August, 1877, on the 45th day of a Tanner fast. It can prove it.

Few men, says the Reidsville Times, "of so high attainments and position as Justice Dillard, of our Supreme Court, retain the natural simplicity of the citizen and friendly neighbor. He is just what he seems and no more. The late Judge Kerr once saw Judge Dillard in a second-class car. "Hi!" said Judge K., "how comes it, a man of your cloth is caught in a second-class car?" "Because there is no third-class," quietly replied Judge D., and asked for a match to light his pipe.

Moore county, the Index says, "is making progress in agriculture as well as in other departments of industry; her farmers are adopting improved methods and improved implements, and few, very few are idle or without employment. It is gratifying to state that many of our colored population are working to some purpose, and are no longer content to live from hand to mouth, but are honestly striving to secure permanent homes where they can surround themselves not only with the necessaries, but also the comforts of life. Taken all in all the future of Moore county is encouraging."

STATE POLITICAL ITEMS:—

The Democrats of Onslow have nominated W. P. Ward for the House of Representatives; E. Murrill for Sheriff; D. E. Humphrey for Register.

Governor Jarvis, Senator Ransom, Judge Fowle, and Fab. H. Busbee, Esq., have accepted invitations to speak at the great Democratic mass-meeting in Wilmington on August 24th.

J. H. Myrover, Esq., Chairman, has called a meeting of the Executive Committee for the 4th Judicial District at Fayetteville on August 10. The Committee will name time and place for a Convention to nominate Judge Buxton's successor.

Carthage, the Index says, organized its Hancock and Jarvis Club on the 26th. Dr. John Shaw is President; Vice-Presidents, T. B. Tyson, Sr., and T. C. Cole; Secretaries, J. C. Black and N. M. Dunlap; Treasurer, Geo. C. Graves. Moore county Democrats hold their primaries on August 14.

GENERAL NEWS ITEMS:—

A special from Moberly, Missouri, says that an armed mob of about one hundred men, from the adjoining counties, came into town on Monday afternoon and opened fire upon J. C. Corlew, whom Sheriff Mattock was taking into the Court House to be tried for committing a rape on the person of Mrs. Crump in a hotel in that city last March. Corlew ran into the Court room followed by three of the mob, where he was shot again. He then escaped to the street and fell, but quickly regaining his feet, he received another shot. He then ran through a dry goods store, closely followed by his assailants; then out into an alley, and again into the street, finally making his way into a room over a saloon. Here his pursuers cornered him, and the husband of the outraged woman ended the pursuit by firing five more shots into Corlew's body and one into his forehead. Corlew died in ten minutes. The officers of the law made no effort to stay proceedings.

In New York, on Thursday, the police arrested G. M. Branscom, of G. M. Branscom & Co., orange packers and commission merchants, of Jacksonville, Fla., charged with the forgery of bonds representing $137,000, known as the sanitary improvement bonds of Jacksonville, drawing interest at the rate of 8 per cent, per annum, and payable in 1898. Branscom after some evasion admitted having perpetratod the forgery. He said that about $25,000 of the bonds were in the hands of merchants who were innocently betrayed into aiding his scheme. His intention was to put up these as collaterals to get goods and procure money to move the orange crops north this fall.

On Wednesday night a party of fifteen disguised men went to the house of Joe Thompson, colored, twenty miles from Atlanta, Ga., and dragged him out, beat him and his wife fearfully, fatally shot his son and killed his daughter. There is great indignation throughout the county and a citizen's meeting at Jonesboro denounced the killing and offered $500 reward for the murderers. Four arrests have been made. Thompson says he recognized as the leader of the gang John Gray, whom he recently prosecuted and had convicted of assault and battery.

Antoine Weber's wife went away from her Pittsburgh home, and he could not learn where or why she had gone. The pair had lived happily and contentedly together, and the husband would not believe that she had wilfully deserted him. Eight years passed without tidings of the missing wife. Then he accidentally found her in an almshouse. She had been crazy until recently, and on recovering her reason could not clearly remember who she was; but the sight of her husband restored her completely.

The Rev. George T. McClelland went from Pittsburgh to Reynoldsville, Pa., to conduct revival meetings in a Presbyterian church. He was quartered in Elder Kelso's house. The neighbors heard the noise of a fight in the building, and presently the clergyman was chased out by the elder, who kicked him violently at every step. Mr. McClelland subsequently said: "Mrs. Kelso invited me to kiss her, and I did so. Then her husband assailed me. I wish now that I hadn't kissed her."

At Santiago de Cuba, during the month ended June 1st there were 131 cases of yellow fever, 2 of small pox and 16 of typhoid fever, 7 deaths from yellow fever, 46 from small pox and 6 from typhoid fever. At Havana there were 71 deaths from yellow fever during the week ended July 17, and 6[illegible] the week ended July 24th.

Brigadier-General Ord telegraphs from San Antonio, Texas, on July 24, that an engagement occurred three days previously between the Mexican troops and Victoria's band, at Ojo del Lobo, Mexico, in which six soldiers were killed. The Indians are reported to have a large number of horses and cattle.

The independent people's Labor Convention met at Shamokin, Pa., on Wednesday, fifteen States being represented, and nominated James A. Garfield for President, and Chester A. Arthur for Vice-President of the United States.

WAIFS:—

Little Robby came home in Boston with his new hat limp as a dish-cloth. "For goodness sake!" cried his mother, "where have you been? Robby, in a whimper as he replied, "A fellow threw my hat into the Frog Pond." "Robby!" exclaimed his sister, "you threw it in yourself. I saw you do it!" "Well," said Robby, contemptuously, "I'm a feller?"

"This is a nice time of night for you to be coming in," said a mother to her daughter, who returned from a walk at 10 o'clock. "When I was little you," continued she, "my mother would not allow me out later than 7 o'clock. Oh, you had a nice sort of a mother," murmured the girl. "I had, you young [illegible]e," said the mother, "a nicer mother than ever you had."

GRADED SCHOOLS.

Report of Graded Schools in Raleigh Township, for Terms of 1879 and 1880.

In the Committee's report at the end of the school term of 1879, mention was made of an apparent want of accommodation for scholars in the building occupied for the white school, in what is known as the Governor's Mansion.

The present committee received control of the schools of the township but a very few days before the commencement of the school term in September, 1879, and on the opening of the white school, the number of scholars entering so far exceeded the number on the rolls of previous years, that greater accommodation was a matter of imperative and immediate necessity. Indeed the committee were compelled during the first portion of the term to use some out buildings for class rooms, until better arrangements could be made.

By permission of the Governor and his council, the committee were allowed to utilize the remaining wing of the building, which could not be used heretofore except as small class rooms. From this wing, after taking out partitions and a large chimney, two large and commodious class rooms were formed—one of which was fitted up for the primary department with fifty new desks, accommodating one hundred scholars; the other was supplied with desks formerly used in the school.

The increase of pupils also necessitated the use of an additional first grade teacher, which want the Committee felt in duty bound to supply at once. The withdrawal of the Peabody annual appropriation, by the Secretary of that fund, the Rev. Dr. B. Sears, deterred the Committee from making other repairs to the internal arrangements of the school, which they would have been inclined to do had they continued to receive this appropriation. No appeals have been made to the citizens of Raleigh for funds to make these needed improvements; but the Committee would respectfully suggest to the citizens, many of whom are acquainted with the school and its work—that as further improvements are very desirable, that any contributions from them through the Committee can be well applied in furnishing such equipments as are used in the best schools of the country. Some enlargement of the fund was received under the new assessment, and had the school law which failed to receive the signatures of the speakers, gone into effect, the Committee would not have been deterred in endeavoring to make this school just what it could be made under present circumstances. The School Committee believe that fair progress has been made both in the white as well as in the colored schools.

COLORED SCHOOLS.

Five schools in this department have been conducted during the past session, and the Committee have for a part of the time been compelled to secure an additional teacher.

One of the largest schools in the past was conducted in what is known as Tupper's Church, a building for which rent had to be paid. The building is not deemed to be quite safe, and as it furnished quarters for several colored societies, who claimed the right to disturb the arrangement of our school furniture whenever they met, which was several times a week, the Committee on account of these various reasons declined again to rent the property.

Accommodations were made for the scholars in the First Baptist Church, where one teacher formerly had been stationed, and at the St. Augustine Church building.

The remaining three schools have been conducted as follows, viz:

One in Oberlin, one in East Raleigh, and the remaining one in the Johnston school building, in rear of the colored M. E. Church.

The Committee will in all probability make some more convenient and commodious arrangements for the consolidation of some of these schools during the next term.

The man who hanged himself died of his own free will and a cord.

A Countryman on the Inferior Court.

TO HAVE THIS COURT WILL NOT AFFECT THE INTERESTS OF LAWYERS.

If not openly expressed it seems to have been secretly thought by some of the good people of Wake that to establish an Inferior Court would advance the pecuniary interests of the legal profession. But in order for it to have this effect it must appear that a lower court would increase the number of cases on the civil and criminal dockets. This doctrine is more specious than sound, more curious than practical. In the opinion of this writer, who is "no orator as Brutus is," but a plain blunt man, such a theory seems false and superficial. No truth is plainer than that the fees, profits and emoluments of lawyers are regulated entirely by the amount of litigation and other legal transactions. Hence the material question in this discussion is, would this court increase the aggregate amount of litigation and legal transactions? Would it put more cases on the docket?

To hold that in the event of the establishment of an Inferior Court there would be more cases on the docket, is to maintain a palpable absurdity. Now cases on the civil issue docket arise from the nature and condition of things, from misunderstandings between man and man, and from the multifarious and web-like complications of business among men in general. But since this condition of things is fixed and unalterable, since men are just as liable to have misunderstandings under the old as under the proposed system, since commercial operations must move on in the same channel as before, and since the manifold transactions of business can not in any manner be affected by the establishment of an Inferior Court, it follows inevitably that the causes for bringing actions can neither be altered nor made greater under one system than another, but remain the same whether there be one or many courts. Therefore to hold that more cases would arise under the new than under the old system, the causes for bringing actions remaining the same, is to maintain that the effect may exist without a cause—a position which reaches the very summit of absurdity.

Let me illustrate: Suppose that, under the present Court arrangements there would be for the year 1881, 300 rights of action, or causes of bringing suits, and that these said causes would place 300 cases on the docket, one case to each cause of action is all that can be justly claimed. One cause of action can never bring more than one case into Court; for if a party has brought one suit he cannot bring another on the same subject matter, but must obtain redress on the suit already instituted. If this were allowed, a case might continue forever, and thus the object for which Courts were established—the administration of justice—would be utterly defeated. Therefore, to say that these same 300 causes of action which, under the present Court arrangements, can bring only 300 cases into Court, could, under the proposed system, place 350 cases on the docket, when only one case is allowed to each cause of action, is but to affirm that there could be fifty effects without any cause or causes whatsoever. Three hundred out of the 350 cases would be satisfactorily accounted for by the 300 causes of action. There would remain, however, the additional fifty, wholly unaccounted for and unexplained. How would they get there? Would they spring up right dry so, without any reason, without any cause? To say this, is but another form of saying that we may have rain without a cloud, lightning without electricity, and a peal of thunder from a clear and cloudless sky.

To my mind it is plain that the causes of bringing action, and the number of cases under both Inferior and Superior Courts combined could be neither greater nor less but remain the same as existed before; that when a necessity of bringing a suit should arise under the old system, said necessity would neither be abolished nor rendered greater by the establishment of an Inferior Court, but would exist to the same extent as before and no further; and that, if we should establish a thousand courts, since the causes of bringing actions must from the nature of the case remain the same, commercial and other business transactions being in no manner affected by said courts, this thousand additional tribunals of justice could not have the effect of adding a single case more to the docket than would otherwise have been placed there.

Suppose, in conclusion, a merchant doing business in a crowded house, should for the sake of convenience add another room thereto; suppose too, in this case as in ours, it would be demonstrated beyond a shadow of a doubt that the number of his customers, and the aggregate amount of his general patronage could not be greater but must remain the same under the new as under the former arrangement: Would not his annual income in the one case be the same as in the other? Would it not be absurd to hold that our merchant by the addition of a new apartment to the old house, would thereby increase his revenues? Would he not be substantially in the same condition as before, except that he would have more room, better accommodations for his customers, and be more conveniently situated for the transaction of his accustomed business? If he should add a thousand rooms, his patronage remaining the same, it could not have the effect of adding a single cent to his yearly income.

If then I have conclusively shown as it seems to me that an Inferior court could not have the effect of increasing the amount of litigation in Wake county, how in the name of common sense and sound reason could it advance the interest and increase the revenue of lawyers? Tell me that. In view of these stern and incontrovertible facts, the man who can seriously think that such results would follow from the establishment of this court could believe anything you might say to him; that the earth rested upon an elephant, and that the elephant in turn stood upon the back of a huge tortoise, and he would never stop to inquire upon what does the tortoise rest, but like the simple untutored Indian would receive the theory as sound philosophy. You might tell him that the sun, shining in full meridian splendor was but a solid globe of ice, glittering in mid Heaven, and that this great luminary derived all his fire with which he warms the universe, from the latent heat embodied in the ice, and he would believe the statement as the perfection of reason and the essence of truth. A COUNTRYMAN.

County Commissioners and the Inferior Court.

[Correspondence of THE RALEIGH NEWS.]

EDITOR NEWS:—That communication in last Wednesday's NEWS relative to County Commissioners and the Inferior Court contained the right sentiments, and was sufficient to convince any reasonable and true Democrat that innumerable evils would assuredly grow out of any combination whatever with the Radicals to defeat the will of a Democratic majority. Its arguments were conclusive that an Inferior Court would be of benefit to the tax-payers and suitors of Wake county, and at the same time would be detrimental to the interests of none except such Radicals as Collins, Harris and Upchurch. Surely, these men's private and political interests will not be made paramount to the interests of the tax-payers and suitors of this county by a Board of Justices containing a large Democratic majority. If so, then why so? Is it because Solicitor Collins is a negro, and that you fear that by curtailing his fees you will fail to get negro votes in the coming election? Is it because Mr. Logan Harris is the Secretary of the Republican State Executive Committee, and writes such truthful accounts to the New York Times of unrepentant rebels, oppressive and aristocratic landlords, and Democratic cruelties to negro convicts? Or is it because Mr. C. D. Upchurch jumps at the opportunity to fill vacancies, caused by the death or resignation of Democratic magistrates, with bitter Radicals, thereby endeavoring to some day secure a radical majority of J. P.'s in this county? Since May last two Democrats have resigned, viz: Thomas Woodall, of Swift Creek, and C. D. Heartt, of Raleigh township. The first vacancy was filled by a Mr. Bledsoe, (son of Moses A.) the young man who introduced such bitter resolutions against the Democratic party in the "black-and-tan" County Convention. So bitter were those resolutions that even the negroes had the profanity stricken out before they would vote for them. The second vacancy was filled by H. M. Miller, of Holden-militia fame.

Democratic Magistrates! attend the meeting on Monday next; confer with each other concerning matters of such vital importance to your county, and if you think, after consultation, it will be to the interest of your people to try an Inferior Court, then establish it, the influence of Collins, Harris, Upchurch and their employees and friends to the contrary notwithstanding. And if any of you aspire to be County Commissioner, submit your claims to the Democratic caucus and turn a deaf ear to Radical coquettes. ANTI-RADICAL.

HENDERSONVILLE, July 28, 1880.

EDITOR NEWS: The inter-State tournament between the Gun Clubs of Raleigh, Columbia, Charleston, Newberry and Hendersonville came off to-day at 12 o'clock, m., near this city, and under the management of Messrs. Thomas W. Dantzler and H. G. Ewart, was a decided success.

The selling of pools took place last evening at Chase's Hotel, with the Charleston Club as the favorite, Raleigh following in its Wake. The result to-day indicates the deficiency of judgment of those who backed the Charleston Team against the Oak City delegation.

Raleigh carried off the first prize in a hotly contested match. The shooting of this Team was superb, and elicited repeated and prolonged applause.

To-night there is a grand dress ball in progress at Chase's Hotel, and the spacious building is beautifully illuminated. Its long verandas (from which, in the day time, charming mountain views can be enjoyed) are thronged with spectators looking upon the youth, beauty and intelligence of Georgia and the Carolinas, as they dance to the music of the finest string band in the South.

Yesterday's train brought to our city a host of distinguished visitors. TINY.

HENDERSONVILLE, N. C. July 28.

EDITOR NEWS:—The grand inter-State Glass Ball Tournament came off here to-day and was participated in by ten clubs, viz: Raleigh Club, Hendersonville Club, Charleston (S. C.) Club, Columbia (S. C.) Club, Newberry (S. C.) Club, Rock Hill (S. C.) Club, Winnsboro (S. C.) Club, Orangeburg (S. C.) Club, Spartanburg (S. C.) Club, and Nameless Club.

The Bogardus rules were adopted for the government of the match and the balls thrown from a Card revolving trap, 19 yards rise. J. K. Read, Esq., of Charleston, S. C., acted as referee, and Messrs. J. F. Jordan, of Hendersonville, and B. F. Slater, of Orangeburg, S. C., as judges.

THE FIRST PRIZE

shot for was made up of $5.00 entrance fee from each club and the gate money, the winning team to get 80 per cent. of the purse, the second 20 per cent. of the remainder, less $5.00 for the third best team, the winners of the first prize to be considered the champions of the South. Each team was composed of five men, each being allowed ten shots, making 50 balls, and resulted as follows:

Raleigh Team.	34
Columbia "	33
Charleston "	31
Orangeburg "	30
Hendersonville team.	24
Nameless "	23
Rock Hill "	20
Winnsboro "	18
Newberry "	15
Spartanburg "	12

The Raleigh Club carried off the first prize, and was greeted by three rousing cheers.

THE SECOND PRIZE

Charleston team.	40
Orangeburg "	36
Columbia "	32
Hendersonville team.	31
Raleigh "	30
Winnsboro "	29
Rock Hill "	26
Spartanburg "	22
Newberry "	17

The Charleston Club carried off the first, and the Orangeburg Club the second prize.

The ground here does not lie favorably for glass-ball shooting, being hilly and uneven, so that you cannot get the outline of the balls between you and the sky a sufficient time, as a general thing; hence the small scores on the matches.

A sweepstakes purse was shot for, in which the Raleigh Club were the winners of three-fourths of the prize, breaking 20 straight shots.

There was a large number of spectators and everything passed off quietly.

To-morrow the tournament will be continued, and several sweepstakes purses will be shot for.

Your correspondent cannot close this report without congratulating the Raleigh Club on their success in carrying off the championship of the South for glass-ball shooting.

EDITOR NEWS: The Dixie Floral Fair opens at Wadesboro to-day, and I see many visitors thitherward bound, both by rail and private conveyance. It will be a big time. I hope to attend to morrow and report. Maj. Dowd, your associate Col. Polk, and others, will address the vast crowd in attendance.

Great credit is due to the managers and officers of the Dixie A. & M. Association for the success which attended their first exhibition last November, and for what is promised and assured for this. To John T. Patrick, of the Herald, I think more praise is due than to any other one individual, though all have done well.

At present

THE CROP PROSPECT

is as favorable and encouraging as I remember ever to have seen it, and unless some mishap should occur, such as too much rain, a hail-storm, the rust, the army worm, or some other thing of the kind, the yield of all crops will, in this immediate neighborhood at least, and so far as I have seen or heard from, surpass that of any year of the last decade.

Fruit is rather scarce, and the quality not good, except as to grapes and melons, of which the supply is abundant. But cider floweth right freely and happy therefore and thereby are many.

A religious and denominational paper of your city, which has probably the largest circulation of any weekly in the State, has recently enunciated some very remarkable—and in my view, very dangerous political sentiments. I allude to the Recorder, the organ of the largest denomination in North Carolina. How the reverend and Christian editor can reconcile such sentiments with those of truth, morality and patriotism, surpasses my comprehension; but even stranger and more unaccountable yet is the fact, that of the leading Democratic papers of North Carolina, only one, the Wilmington Star, has seen fit to combat and assail the heretical and mischievous positions and opinions taken and advocated by that influential Recorder. The Star's comments were timely and pointed; the silence of others is strange and of very doubtful propriety. OUTIS.

"How dare you say 'damn' before me?" severely inquired a clergyman of a loafer. "How did I know you wanted to say 'damn' first?" retorted this bad man.

17 Murray Steet, NEW YORK.
Who is Your Wife?
A COMPLEX CONUNDRUM COLLOQUIALLY CONSIDERED.
BY WALDORF H. PHILLIPS.
We beg leave to announce that we have published, under the above title, a very novel and remarkable work. It is, in the form of fiction, a humorous and powerful satire on Divorce Laws and their complications. The author takes for his text a proposed new marriage ceremony, thus:—
"Do you take this woman to be your wife—until you are divorced?
"Do you take this man to be your husband—until you change your mind?
"Then, they whom I unite, let some Court put asunder."
The work is full of humor and keen satire; it is decidedly a most original and novel addition to American publications, and it is confidently believed will prove the literary sensation of the year. Price, in paper binding, 50c.; in cloth, 75c. Can be had of all Booksellers and News Dealers, or will be sent, postage paid, upon receipt of the price, by the publishers.

WATSON'S NEW SERIES.
The lower numbers of this reading series are remarkable for the "word-building system," the high order of the illustrations, and the interesting but strictly progressive character of the reading lessons. The higher volumes challenge comparison on account of their elocutionary treatises and the noble range of selection from standard literature.

BARNES' BRIEF HISTORIES
These charming volumes are as attractive in language and "make-up" as they are thorough in practical facilities for the learner. Although so recently published, it is believed that the United States History is already more extensively used than any other of its grade.
A brief History of the United States.
A brief History of the World (Ancient).

DAVIES' MATHEMATICS
are justly called the National Standard. They are used in the great National Schools at Annapolis and West Point, in the public schools of the National Capital, have received the quasi endorsement of the National Congress, and are more popular in every section of the national boundary than any other series.
Since the death of Dr. Davies (in 1876), his work has been carried on by Dr. W. G. Peck (who was his trusted colleague), and under whose supervision the following entirely new series of text-books has been prepared, covering the whole science:
Davies' & Peck's brief Arithmetic.

GILDERSLEEVE'S
LATIN SERIES.
—BY—
B. L. Gildersleeve, Ph. D., Gottingen, LL.D., Professor of Greek in Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.
Rarely have text-books been greeted with so large a measure of favor and hearty appreciation, as these books by Professor Gildersleeve have received from the best scholastic and educational minds of the country. The author, now of national reputation as a scholar, has had very complete preparation for such a work. After being graduated at Princeton, he studied for several years in the Universities of Germany, where he received his Ph.D., etc., with highest honors. His subsequent life has been devoted to teaching and linguistic study. When the new and richly endowed Johns Hopkins University sought for a fit man for its chair of Greek, the appointment was conferred on Prof. Gildersleeve, after wide conference, and without his solicitation or effort, and his work as senior professor of the University attracts marked attention. He is also the presiding officer of the American Philogical Association.
Prof. Gildersleeve's Latin books are the product of this order of ability and educational training. Embodying the best results of recent studies in Latin philology, they are simple, clear and practical in method.
THE LATIN PRIMER,
complete in itself, a naturally developed course for beginners, at once holds the interest of the pupil, and prepares him thoroughly for ready and intelligent use of Grammar and Reader, or Latin author. It supplies: "Maximum of Forms; Minimum of Syntax; Early Contact with the Language in Mass."
A teacher in one of the leading High Schools of the country, who conducted a large class through this book, writes:
"We have just finished the Primer, having spent upon it thirty-four weeks; and I have been trying to realize my pupils' attitude towards the study, as compared with that of other classes I have known. They have the use of a larger vocabulary; their text-book has secured for them a careful drill in the normal terminations; they have been brought more into contact with the language in the concrete, and have, therefore, a more vivid interest in it; and they have been less perplexed by exceptional forms and difficult construction.
"The book is thoroughly alive, and will perforce make its students so."
THE LATIN GRAMMAR
is marked by its genuine scholarship, clear and logical arrangement of material, and a typography that pleasantly aids the eye. Its presentation of forms is plain and convenient; its definitions, rules and other statements are brief and pointed; and its translations of illustrative examples are most striking models for students.
THE LATIN READER
has Fables and Stories; "De Gestis Alexandri," a most interesting narrative, chiefly from Curtius; one book of Cæsar's "De Bello Gallico," treated in a manner to make it an admirable drill in Latin Syntax; also notes and References to the Grammar, and a Vocabulary.
THE LATIN EXERCISE-BOOK, a book of Latin Composition, compact in form, is noticeable for its well-graded course of exercises, apt choice of idioms, and adaptation to train the average learner to a thorough mastery of the words and constructions of the language.
Single specimen copies for examination furnished on receipt of the following prices:
